Alternative Fingering Chart 1.

These are only suggestion that work for me and the exact fingering used will always depend on the musical context.
I would recommend that you experiment and discover your own fingering combinations that work best for you on your instrument.

Nigel Wood - November 2006

The chart is organized into three rows, each with four fingering diagrams and a corresponding musical notation staff.

- Row 1: Four diagrams showing fingerings for notes with a sharp sign (#). The musical notation below shows a treble clef staff with notes marked with #.
- Row 2: Four diagrams showing fingerings for notes with a flat sign (b). The musical notation below shows a treble clef staff with notes marked with b.
- Row 3: Three diagrams showing fingerings for notes with a sharp sign (#) and a flat sign (b). The musical notation below shows a treble clef staff with notes marked with # and b.
